Short Bio

Laurence Baer is a Berkeley-trained researcher, Grammy-nominated songwriter, and former Executive Assistant to Former U.S. Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson. A survivor of a 1977 kidnapping and initiator of the landmark Baer v. Baer religious liberty case, he now documents the "Golden Moment" of spiritual restoration in his new book, Holy Mother Han and the Fifth Pledge.

Medium Bio

Laurence Baer has spent 50 years operating at the intersection of global architecture and spiritual transition. In 1974, he left his physics studies at UC Berkeley to join the movement of Holy Mother Han, a journey that led to a harrowing kidnapping and attempted deprogramming in 1977.

Following his escape and a featured interview with Mike Wallace on *60 Minutes*¹, Baer became a national advocate for religious freedom. He successfully initiated the landmark California Supreme Court case *Baer v. Baer*², which established religious groups as a protected class.

During the decade from 1983 to 1992, Baer served as Executive Assistant to world leaders including Former U.S. Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson and New Zealand PM Sir Robert Muldoon, notably assisting the World Bank in establishing the MIGA financial pillar³. A Grammy-nominated songwriter, Baer now applies that same analytical rigor to his documentation of the "Golden Moment"—the emergence of the Divine Mother—culminating in 15 evidence-based readings and a climactic interview with the Prophet Ezekiel.

Full Narrative: From Berkeley Physics to Global Architecture

In 1974, Laurence Baer left his physics studies at UC Berkeley to join the movement of Rev. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon (Holy Mother Han). This decision thrust him into the epicenter of a national conflict: In 1977, Baer was kidnapped and subjected to seven days of physical and mental abuse in an attempted deprogramming. Following his escape, his interview by Mike Wallace on 60 Minutes (April 10, 1977)¹ brought the era's intense spiritual conflicts to a national audience.

Rather than retreating, Baer became a catalyst for legal change. He successfully initiated the 1978 California Supreme Court case *Baer v. Baer*², which established religious groups as a protected class—a cornerstone of religious liberty law that remains a vital precedent today.

During the decade from 1983 to 1992, Baer operated at the highest levels of global policy. Serving as Executive Assistant to Former U.S. Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, Senator Eugene McCarthy, and New Zealand Prime Minister Sir Robert Muldoon, he helped launch the Global Economic Action Institute (GEAI). Notably, Baer assisted the World Bank in securing the ratification of MIGA (Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency)³, completing a vital pillar of global financial architecture.

Today, as a documentarian of the "Golden Moment," Baer applies the analytical rigor of his background in physics to the most significant spiritual transition in 2,000 years: the emergence of the Divine Mother. His work, Holy Mother Han and the Fifth Pledge, details the revolutionary liberation of spirits—including those from the Holocaust, African slavery, and First Nations—and explores his own decade of direct dialogue with both Heavenly Father and Heavenly Mother.

Most significantly, Baer presents 15 evidence-based readings involving his "Ancestral Committee" and a technological "Angel Project" mirroring the Book of Ezekiel. These sessions feature historical figures such as Socrates, Rabbi Gamaliel, and the founders of the Haudenosaunee Federation, culminating in a final, hard-hitting, extended interview with the Prophet Ezekiel himself.

Now 73, a grandfather of twelve, Baer is a first-hand witness to a closing window of opportunity. He provides a haunting look at the current providential crisis: Holy Mother Han, now 83, remains under arrest in South Korea in solitary confinement without formal charges—a "last-ditch effort" by the logic of power to resist the inevitable global transition to the Logic of Love.

Comparative Framework: The Great Systems Upgrade

Relational Model	Male-Centered Competition: A "Winning" mindset that escalates from tribal to global rivalry.	Parent-Centered Harmony: A "Family" mindset of reconciliation and cooperation.
Primary Driver	Greed & Control: High-friction substitutes for connection and safety.	Internal Alignment: Decisions driven by a "Culture of Heart."
Economic Goal	Accumulation: Systems designed to benefit the "self" or "tribe."	Mutual Prosperity: Systems designed for shared global flourishing.

Verifiable Data Summary (Evidence-Based Results)

1. The "Dual-Citizen": George Detlefsen PhD - on the Gift of Dementia

- The Evidence: George provided a profound first-person account of his two-year "transition" period. He revealed that his dementia was not a tragedy, but an extraordinary act of Divine Grace.
- The Significance of Physical Life: Because his body remained alive on Earth, George's spirit was able to receive the vitality elements necessary to grow and develop while simultaneously having the total freedom to travel throughout the spirit world.
- The Transformation: For over two years, he was a "Dual Citizen," working extensively in the spiritual realm to resolve deep-seated ancestral issues. This unique combination of earthly life and spiritual mobility resulted in his immediate elevation to a very high level upon his final passing.
- The Final Verification: George described the remarkable "return" to his body on the final day of his life. After years of not recognizing his own wife, he regained full physical lucidity just long enough to offer his final apologies and goodbyes—a moment witnessed and verified by his family.

2. The "Gyroscope" & The Ezekiel Synchronization

1. The Technical Meta-Analysis: George showed the medium (Angela) a gyroscope. He explained that a primitive culture would view such a device as magic, but it actually follows the basic laws of the universe. He used this example to prepare the author to process the advanced spiritual technology of the Angel Project.

2. The Angelic Technology Witnessed: George brought Angela into the "room" where the project was being developed. In the center of the room, surrounded by concentric circles of angels was a table with a large disc of spinning colors. Despite her international experience lecturing on angels, she was amazed by the spiritual technology—describing a spinning, multicolored "generator" of light that she had never encountered before.

3. The Midnight Verification: That evening, the author woke at exactly midnight with the song "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel" in his head. Upon entering the terms: "Ezekiel" and "Wheel" in the Bible Gateway search engine, the following headline appeared: "Wheels Within Wheels, Like a Gyroscope."

4. Significance: This is a "Double-Blind Synchronization." The spirit provided the specific technical metaphor (the Gyroscope) before the author discovered the identical terminology in the Message (MSG) translation of Ezekiel. This sequence validates that the same technology witnessed in the reading was described in the Book of Ezekiel 2,500 years ago, proving the Angel Project is a guided, external data download.

3. The "Master Class": Rabbi Gamaliel & the Kabbalah Network

1. The Request to Observe: When Angel Project was first revealed to the author, Rabbi Gamaliel, one of the three co-chairmen of the author's Ancestral Committees, asked if he could observe the advanced technology being used. When the author countered that as a co-chairman, he should be managing the project, Rabbi Gamaliel explained that the work was currently beyond his level of understanding. He expressed profound excitement at the opportunity to simply watch and learn.

2. The Participation: Upon receiving the author's permission, he immediately took his place at the table alongside the angels. He described himself as being in a "Master Class," acting as an apprentice to the angelic realm as they operated the spinning disc of lights.

3. The Spiritual Infrastructure: Rabbi Gamaliel acted as a "gateway," trailing numerous silver communication threads connected to a vast network of Jewish scholars and Kabbalah masters from many nations, now in the spirit world. These masters, in turn, were connected to many more "wise men" on the Earth plane.

4. The Transmission: The information generated by the angels was disseminated through this network to people on Earth—both Jewish and non-Jewish—in the form of sudden insights and revelations.

5. Significance: This provides evidence of how God is working through the angelic realm at this Golden Moment to awaken people on Earth. Rabbi Gamaliel served as one specific channel who was able to resonate with the Kabbalah realm. In subsequent discussions, the angels revealed that this technology has been deployed by God throughout history to raise the awareness of those on Earth, and that there are currently many such projects all seeking to awaken various groups across the globe.

4. "Ancestral Reconciliation": Dr. Baer and the Mauthausen Legacy

1. The Reconciliation: During an extended healing session with the medium Maria, the author's father (Dr. Baer) revealed the hidden events of his early life. These disclosures explained the root of his complex relationship with God and the author, leading to a profound spiritual reconciliation between father and son.

2. The Multi-Generational "Hit": Dr. Baer revealed specific, previously undisclosed details from his past that finally provided the missing context for the severe, lifelong depression suffered by the author's grandmother and uncle.

3. Independent Verification: These specific details were unknown to the author during the session but were later confirmed by the author's older brother, who had been privately aware of these family secrets, providing an objective "Double-Blind" verification of the data retrieval.

4. Accessing the Mauthausen Gateway: This personal reconciliation provided the necessary spiritual foundation to access the "Gateway" of liberation that had been opened a year prior by Holy Mother Han's prayer at Mauthausen, Austria. While the gateway was already active, this restoration allowed the author's family—and many other Holocaust victims—to finally pass through it to be healed.

5. Significance: This provides evidence of Information Retrieval (data unknown to the subject but later verified). It demonstrates how individual restoration, grounded in the "Logic of Love," allows ancestors to move through the providential doors opened by Holy Mother Han during this Golden Moment.

5. The "Theological Stress Test":

1. The Test: Dr. Tyler Hendricks, former President of the Unification Theological Seminary (UTS), presented 15 rigorous, scholarly questions to the angels. This was a deliberate "stress test" to see if the "Angel Project" could provide structurally sound answers.
2. The "Symphonic" Motivation: In a sharp contrast to human ego and hierarchy, the angels described their own motivation as a "Symphonic Harmony." They explained that an angel (like a clarinet in an orchestra) has no desire to "stand out" or dominate, as that creates dissonance. Their joy comes exclusively from resonating in unity—a structural "hit" that explains why the "Logic of Love" is the only sustainable operating system for the planet.
3. Why angels were not sufficient as God's ultimate object partners: The angels responded with "rolling laughter" at the "elementary" nature of the inquiry. Their response: "Would you rather be married to an idea or to a physical spouse?" They explained that angels are "emanations" or "rays" flowing from God—totally interconnected and interdependent like cells in a body. While they have individuation, they lack the specific physical substance and spiritual "anchor" that allows humans to serve as God's intended physical body on Earth. This illuminates why God embarked on a 14-billion-year creative journey. It confirms that the human family is the intended "body" through which a Creator who exists beyond time and space can finally experience the fullness of substantial, felt love—specifically the four great realms of heart: children's, siblings', conjugal, and parents' love.
4. The "Continuum" of Life: They explained that as the physical universe expands and "new people are being born all the time," the "band of angelic energy" expands with it. This is not a random occurrence but a "partnership" where the angelic realm provides the spiritual support that allows the physical life to develop and flourish.
5. The "Protective Wrap": The angels described themselves as "emanations" of God's love that are intimately connected to the physical expansion of the universe. They revealed that for every human birth, there is a specific angelic presence—an "angel wrapped around every fetus"—acting as a spiritual counterpart and protector during the gestation process.

6. The "Systemic Collapse" Prediction (The 2024 Election Foresight)

1. The Evidence: On August 9, 2024—three months before the U.S. Presidential election—the author inquired about the future of the 2024 and 2028 elections.
2. The Foresight: George Detlefsen immediately bypassed specific political outcomes to describe a deeper structural reality: George stated that "this year is going to be total chaos," defined by intense divisiveness and systemic shaking. He predicted that "a lot of evil will be exposed to sunlight" during this transition. George foresaw a "major shift" over a six-to-seven-year window where global systems built on "greed and a lust for power" rather than "love" would fundamentally collapse, describing it as an "earthquake" where "big buildings"

(institutions) come down. George finished with: "Chaos is coming... whoever gets elected, the chaos is still going to be there."

3. Macro-Validation: Looking back from March 2026, the accuracy of this "chaos" forecast is self-evident. Donald Trump's victory on November 5, 2024, and his subsequent inauguration on January 20, 2025, did not resolve the nation's instability. Instead, as George predicted, the period has been defined by the "exposure" of deep-seated institutional corruption and a continued "shaking" of the old systems. The insight that the chaos was independent of the election winner proved that the source was focused on a larger, structural "rebirthing" process rather than mere politics.
